

PRACTICAL 6: WRITING BLOG

Pamban bridge is one of the prime attractions of Tamil Nadu, located in Rameshwaram. In Rameshwaram there are many temples to visit. I went on to take a one day trip to Dhanushkodi, Tamil Nadu off from Madurai. Take any train journey to Rameshwaram and that's where i crossed a rail-bridge, the more than 100 years old Pamban bridge which connects to the Rameshwaram Island. The bridge is located 14.8km from Rameswaram Bus stand. You can reach the bridge through government buses or ideally through private vehicles. You can either take the rail route or a road route which runs parallel to it to get to Rameswaram.

But what a beauty! You are surrounded by blue waters till as far as your eyes can see. The bridge is only 1 meter wide and 2.5 km long. The speed is reduced to 20-30 km/hr while the train is on this vulnerable bridge. The experience is totally worth it!

I got a feel the sea underneath my feet on a slow moving train on pamban bridge. And also i got a beautiful glimpse of the pamban road bridge alongside

BLOG LINK : <https://acharikarthik.blogspot.com/2022/01/pamban-bridge-indias-first-sea-bridge.html>